Acknowledgment of subscription renewals is made as follows, with thanks: R. B. Kiffer, Endeavor, Pa.; T. J. Lewis, Nashville, N. C.; Chas. M. Wolfe, McKeesport, Pa.; Andrew Wolfe, Tionesta; Twp. Ray Birtici, J. W. Landers, Tionesta.
The Fessler company, which drilled two wells on the Clapp tract, up the river, has located the third well on the Hopkins lands, to the right of the public road and not far from No. 1. Contractor S. H. Lusher has his machine moved and is about ready to begin drilling.
Lewis Cook started for Pittsburg Monday with the first fleet of flatboats of the season. There were six in all, four loaded and three empty, the property of Collins, Darrab & Co., of Nebraska. The water was in fine stage and Lewis will make the run in just about no time.
WANTED.—Men for saw mill, teamsters, yard, log cutters, etc., at Glade Lumber Company, Erwin, West Va., and Range Lumber Company, at Deer Creek, West Va. Good wages paid. Apply direct to one of the above addresses. G. G. STRIZINGER & Co., New Castle, Pa. adv
The Pittsburg newspapers of Thursday report that President I. M. Shannon and his son M. C. Shannon, were held for the federal grand jury in $5,000 bail on Wednesday on charges of embezzling the funds of the Second National Bank of Clarion, by United States Commissioner William T. Lindsey.
Glenn Geist has the distinction of capturing the big trout of the season so far. While fishing with his father in Stewart's run last Thursday the big fellow took hold and was landed in good style. It measured 14 inches and lacked an ounce of weighing a pound. It was of the rainbow species.

W. J. Hunter was down from his German Hill farm Thursday and took with him a new up-to-date grain drill he had purchased of Agent Sigworth. Wallace doesn't believe in the slow, tedious and more or less laborious methods of farming and is wisely providing himself with modern machinery right on the go.
A pole and flag raising will take place on the Tionesta school grounds next Friday afternoon at two o'clock, the closing day of school. There will be a number of speeches by prominent men of the town and the scholars of the schools will render patriotic music. All are invited to attend these exercises, which will be short.
The Ladies Home Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will pack a box of second-hand clothing, hats and shoes, next Saturday afternoon, May 3d, at two o'clock, in the basement of the church, for Smallwood Memorial Normal and Industrial College for Freedmen at Clairmont, Virginia, represented here recently by H. M. Edwards.
Samuel Pryor and Editor Muse of the Indicator last week closed the deal by which they became owners of the Beauty farm once occupied by the late Capt. Clark, three miles up Hunter run. Mr. Pryor has lived on the place for several years and will continue to make that his home, while, we presume, Br'er Muse will do his share of the farming at this end of the line.
The old homestead on the Deible farm at McGraw, Warren county, was burned yesterday morning, and the fire is supposed to have caught from a spark in the absence of the caretaker, David Stewart. The dwelling was an old but very substantial one, containing ten rooms, and the loss is estimated at $2,000 with no insurance. The property was owned by Tionesta people.
The Alumni reception to the Class of '13 will be held at Bovard's hall Tuesday evening next, 6th, beginning at 10 o'clock. Coleman's orchestra of Titusville will furnish the musical inspiration and a fine banquet will be served. Tickets will be on sale at Herman's store Saturday at 50 cents each. Members of the alumni are reminded that the annual dues are payable not later than tomorrow, May 1st.

Dan Wilson, of Smokey Hill, lost a good young team horse last Friday in a rather peculiar way. He had led the horse to the watering trough with a halter and when it got frisky gave it a slap with the strap. The horse gave a jump and escaped from him, running with full speed into a strong woven wire fence. It struck the wire with its head and turned a complete somersault over the fence, breaking its neck.
The Council run well was shot yesterday in the Speechy sand with a hundred-quart shot. What the explosion developed cannot yet be said, but it is doubtful whether it is any good. The flow of gas was materially increased but whether it is enough to bother with is questionable. The company is not satisfied with this test and there is little question but that another well, probably a thousand or fifteen hundred feet from this one, will be drilling within the next two weeks.
The rain of last Sunday was a welcome visitant to this section in more ways than one. It laid the dust which had become almost intolerable, soaked the parched earth, and best of all, wet down the woods so as to stay the progress of forest fires which were breaking out in many directions. Vegetation has taken on new life, and if the weather man will now bring on the sunshine and warmth again, old Mother Earth will show him something in the nature of growing things that will be worth while.

James G. Carson, contractor for the Forest Barge company at West Hickory, was with an accident Monday of last week which it is feared may cripple him for many weeks, if not permanently. He was using an adze while working in the barge yard, and by a mistake the sharp blade of the adze was sunk deep into the kneejoint of his left leg cutting a bad gash and permitting the joint water to escape. It is feared this may cause a permanent stiffness of the knee joint. Mr. Carson is progressing toward recovery, but is likely to be confined to his home for several weeks.
The best catch of trout that has been made in this county this season, or any other season for that matter, was by Frank Witherell, shortly after the opening of the season. He was out on two separate days, his entire catch amounting to 80 trout which weighed 93 pounds. This notable stunt was pulled off on Hickory creek, above Endeavor and the trout were all of the native speckled beauty variety, not a foreign brood in the lot. Frank is an expert in this line and generally makes the boys sit up and take notice when he comes in from "a day out," but this latest achievement has put them all to rout.
M. O. Leighton, Chief Hydrographer of the U. S. Geological Survey, says that the loss of life and damage to property caused by the recent floods in Ohio and Indiana could not have been helped by any human agency. He says that no reservoir system could be devised to take care of the deluge of water of such unprecedented proportions, and that the catastrophe could no more have been averted than that of the San Francisco earthquake. The Pittsburg flood commission should lose no time in looking into this important matter. It would probably have occasion to condemn the U. S. Geological Survey as a delusion and a snare.

Daum Bros., the East Second street liverymen, put their big furniture van to a peculiar use yesterday, when they loaded on it the horse owned by Edward Hepler, which was injured in a runaway accident a week ago, and hauled it to Hepler's barn near Newmansville, Forest county, for home treatment. Mr. Hepler and his wife were driving through the Tenth ward, when their team ran away and the horses collided with a telephone pole, throwing them. The one was supposed to have been so badly hurt that it could not recover, but after treatment it was found that the worst hurt was a dislocated shoulder. A rack was made and the horse fitted into it and the outfit was loaded into the furniture van and was carted home yesterday without his suffering any ill effects from his journey. The rack is of more value than one owned by the average farmer or huckster, hence the care it is receiving.—Oil City Derrick, Thursday.

Mr. J. H. Brennan and Miss Ruth A. Stevens were united in marriage at the home of the bride in Panama, N. Y., Friday evening, April 25th, 1913, at 8 o'clock, in the presence of immediate friends. The groom is engaged as a photographer in Tionesta, Pa. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stevens, of Panama, N. Y. The happy couple will make Tionesta their place of residence and their many friends will wish them a long and prosperous voyage in life. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. C. Rickenbrode, pastor of the M. E. church, Panama, N. Y.

PERSONAL.
Harrison Blum was up from Oil City to spend Sunday with his parents.
Editor Walker of the Warren Times was a visitor in town last Thursday.
Joseph Green, of West Hickory, was a business visitor in Tionesta Friday.
George Buhl of Akeley, Warren county, was a business visitor in town Friday.
J. T. Dale, who spent the past winter in Florida, returned home yesterday morning.
Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Imel and daughter Helen visited relatives in Tidouote over Sunday.
Mrs. G. B. Armstrong's friends will be pleased to learn that she is improving from her serious illness.
W. W. Wolfe, of Tionesta, was a visitor in the city today. He was enroute to Tulsa, Okla., where he expects to locate.—Oil City Blizzard, 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burben and children of German Hill spent the Sabbath at the guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Moug, in Tionesta township.
Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Watson autored up from Oil City Saturday and Miss Mae Sanner returned to the city with them, remaining as their guest over Sunday.
Mrs. Alice Swanson and Miss Kate Arner went to Erie Friday and spent the Sabbath with their sister, Miss Emma Arner, a student nurse at St. Vincent's hospital.

A son arrived Monday morning at the home of Orion Clark, one of the progressive merchants of Endeavor, and the little guest is all the more welcome through there already being three daughters in the family.
John R. Reck drove down from Bradford in his auto Thursday and mingled with friends for a day or two. Mr. Reck had the contract for drilling the Council run well which was plugged at a depth of 2,800 feet.
H. F. X. Kreidler, of Nebraska, and attorneys T. F. Ritehey and A. C. Brown, of Tionesta, joined Hon. P. M. Spear, of Oil City, yesterday in a trip to Harrisburg, where a public hearing will be held today on one of the "water snake" bills now before the legislative committee.

Miss Katharine Osgood, who presides over the destinies of the pupils of room No. 2 in the Tionesta schools, is the fortunate winner of a free scholarship in the Chautauqua summer schools, having been notified Monday of her selection as one of twenty teachers who have been awarded full scholarships.
Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bryner and daughter, and Mrs. A. F. Atchison, of Pleasantville, drove over Saturday and spent the Sabbath with Tionesta friends, the first named being guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark, and the latter to visit her husband. Mr. Bryner is driving an elegant new Winton-six automobile.
M. E. Abbott left Monday morning for Baltimore, Md. The Abbott household goods have been stored and Mrs. Abbott and the children are making their home temporarily with Mrs. Emma Blum, on Vine street. H. H. Donley will shortly occupy the J. T. Carson house on Bridge street, vacated by the Abbott family.
We had a pleasant call from William Albaugh, of East Hickory, who was in town on business Monday. Our old veteran friend was looking forward with joyful anticipations to the reunion of the old boys at Gettysburg next July, where he hopes to meet many of his old comrades who went through that memorable battle and lived to tell about it.
Miss Agnes J. Horton and Harold J. McClellan, of Marienville, were united in marriage at the Court House Friday evening, 19th inst., by Rev. Horace M. Conway, pastor of Trinity M. E. church. Mrs. Annie E. Horton, mother of the bride, and Mrs. U. G. Edwards were the only attendants of the bride. The young couple will reside at Marienville.—Ridgeway Democrat.

Misses Edna Ogden, Ethel Hall, Pearl Hopkins and Cora Tait formed a hiking party that walked down from Endeavor and took in the ball games between the boy scouts, returning home in the evening on the train. When it is understood that the distance is over nine miles and that the young ladies covered it in about three hours, it will be seen that the stunt was no insignificant one.
Mrs. Mary Gordon, widow of the late Alexander Gordon, both of whom were former well known residents here, is dangerously ill at her home at Elkhardt, Indiana, and her advanced age, 82 years, makes her recovery very doubtful, we are sorry to state. Her sister, Mrs. Wm. Lawrence, received a message Saturday stating that her condition was critical and further information is to the effect that all the members of the family have been summoned home.

R. B. Kiffer who conducts a prosperous farm up the Beaver Valley road in Hickory township, brought a load of grit to the Lanson mill Friday, and while awaiting its conversion into flour, gave this office a pleasant call. He not only raises good crops but meets with considerable success in the line of poultry and egg culture, and reports the production by one of his turkeys of an egg measuring 7 1/2 x 9 inches, and weighing an even quarter pound. For a turkey egg this rather takes the chroux, we should say.

Minutes of License Court.
Court convened at 11 o'clock yesterday morning with President Judge Hickey and Associates Aul and Morgan on the bench.
Aside from the license hearings the following matters were disposed of:
Lawrence Zuendel, guardian of Hazel K. and LeRoy Blum, minor heirs of Herman Blum, deceased, was given leave to apply the proceeds from the rental of the Blum farm to the maintenance of the children, the same to be paid to their mother, Mrs. Emma Blum.
Under the appraisement of the estate of E. E. Zuendel, deceased, the widow's allotment was set aside for her benefit.
Upon the petition of citizens of Howe township, the following viewers were appointed to vacate and supply a road leading from the forks of the Baltow road to the Porter farm to the Janks township line: D. W. Clark and T. F. Ritehey, of Tionesta; T. J. Reyner, of Marienville.
David Hunter filed objections to the proposed abandonment and removal of the interests of the old M. E. Church cemetery. The court approved the application of the trustees of the church and granted them permission to remove the bodies from the cemetery after due notice to the public given in the papers.
All liquor license applications were granted, there being no contest except to the Marienville applications, which were strenuously opposed and much testimony adduced to show that the applicants had sold liquor to men of known intemperate habits. Following is the list of those granted:
Tionesta—Robert A. Fulton, Central House, Joseph B. Pierce, Hotel Weaver.
Marienville—L. W. Dana, Keystone Hotel, J. J. Young, New Marien Hotel.
West Hickory—Harry S. Canfield, Globe Hotel.

In the case of the Tionesta licenses, the court refused the request of petitioners for a restriction upon the licensees in the matter of dispensing liquor by the bottle.
Foreigner Seriously Injured.
John Meruit, an Austrian employed at Mayburg and a member of the logging crew was terribly injured late Thursday afternoon by being run over by a car on one of the switches or sidings of the lumber company. In attempting to jump from one car to another, while they were in motion, he fell and his legs going across a rail the bones were badly broken. The accident was fortunate in that the flesh and muscles were not cut, but it will be several months before the injured man is again able to walk, if the legs are saved at all. Meruit was taken by special train to Sheffield and from there conveyed to the Emergency hospital at Warren where his injuries were attended to. He is a young man, aged about 25 years, and single.

The Mozart Club Recital.
Last Wednesday evening the Mozart Club gave one of their popular open meetings with Mrs. R. M. Herman as hostess at her pleasant home on Elm street. A large number of invited guests were in attendance and were delightfully entertained with a fine program consisting of vocal and instrumental selections, which was given as printed below. Light refreshments were served as a closing feature of the evening. The program:
Chorus—Welcome, Sweet Spring.....

Church Hill.
We are glad to see the farmers are getting their crops in. They all expected an early spring but it seems as if old Mother Earth slept a little longer than they expected.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Albaugh called on Mrs. Taylor one day last week.
Mrs. Andrews was surprised the other day when her brother and nephew walked into her home on Church Hill.
We are glad to hear that Miss Hazel Church is able to be up and about again. Clifford Shaffer and Milo Barber were out for a drive Sunday and called on Clifford's grandfather.
Some of our young people were very much disappointed because it rained Sunday. They were going to the Prather Rocks.
Arthur Barnes is the proud owner of a fine colt three days old.
Allison Klinefester was home over Sunday.
Charles Smith has his stone derrick at Jacob L. Klinefester's farm ready to put in the wall for Mr. Klinefester's new barn.
There was church here Sunday night, but owing to the bad weather there were not very many out.
Chas. Shaffer has a new stone step in front of his house. He expects this one to last and not rot away very soon.
Mr. and Mrs. Ira Barnes were surprised last Saturday night when some of the Cropp Hill young people called at their home.

The Late William A. Shewman.
The following concerning the late W. A. Shewman is taken from the Oregon City (Ore.) Courier, of April 25, 1913:
Died, at St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, April 21, 1913, W. A. Shewman, Jr., aged 41 years.
A few weeks ago at a meeting of the Live Wires, Mr. Shewman was named as a committee on some industrial enterprise, when he stated that he was ready to leave for a southern trip and it might be a long time before he returned to the live wires. None present ever imagined that he would never return. Realizing that his health was fast failing, but not realizing that he was seriously ill, he thought a change of climate and a vacation would benefit him, and about three months ago, with his wife and son, he went to southern California, expecting to remain two or three months and hoping the sunny climate would give him renewed health and strength. But his condition was more serious than he or his family realized, and he gradually grew worse. The weather conditions were everything but sunshine. He contracted a severe cold and his condition became alarming. Consulting the best physicians, they advised him to return home at once and place himself under the care of a hospital. Mr. Shewman weighed the chances, realized the danger of the operation in his weakened condition, but went to the operating table with a smile. Rev. Bowen, of Portland, administered the sacrament, and to him and his wife he said he would take the chances without fear and submit to the verdict. The verdict was death. The case was too serious for recovery in his weakened condition.
The morning of the day of his death he greeted his wife and nurses with a cheery good morning, and during the day talked with Mrs. Shewman several times. He was without pain and fully conscious. During the afternoon the doctors and nurses saw that the end was near and at four o'clock he told his wife that he was very tired.
"Why don't you go to sleep—it will be best for you now," she said.
"I may not awaken," he replied.
"But you are not afraid, are you?"
"No, I am not afraid. I am going to sleep."
Arranging the pillows Mrs. Shewman asked, "Now shall I kiss you good-night?"
"Yes, and kiss me good-bye," he replied.
And then, as a babe falls to sleep, without a pain, a tremor, he closed his eyes for the everlasting sleep.
Mr. Shewman was born in Geneva, N. Y., in 1872, and would have been 41 years old in May. When an infant his parents moved to Randolph, N. Y., where his father, W. A. Shewman, was owner of the Randolph Register for many years, and here the son grew to manhood, and was later associated with his father in business. In 1897 he was married to Vernah W. Shewman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Watson, then residing at Gollina, now of Tionesta, Pa., and soon after moved to Gallon, Ohio, where they lived for some time, and later went to Buffalo, N. Y., where he was staff artist on the Times, afterwards going to Pennsylvania, where he was for six years associated with his father-in-law in business at Kellettville. In 1907 he came to Portland the following year bought the Courier at Oregon City, which he edited and managed for four years, and during this time he also purchased and managed the Albany Herald, later selling the Herald. In January, 1912, he sold the Courier to M. J. Brown and A. E. Frost, and became editor of the Western Stock Journal, which position he held at the time of his recent illness. His wife, Mrs. Vernah Shewman, mother, Mrs. Josephine Shewman, son, Alon, and sister, Mrs. Tyra Warren, are living at Risley.

Will Shewman will be greatly missed in Oregon City. Big hearted, generous to a fault, always good natured and sunny; always taking part in any project for doing things—such a man leaves a vacancy hard to fill. One splendid trait was his love of children. He was the friend of the little folks and they were his friends.
The Courier editor was raised in the same county with Mr. Shewman, worked for years with him in the newspaper work and knew him intimately. And he knows of his splendid traits, of charity, of generosity, of heart kindness, and his wonderfully conceiving mind. He had great ability along many lines and his brain was ever restive and working out new ideas.
The funeral services will be held from the home this (Thursday) afternoon at two o'clock. The services will be private both at the home and at the cemetery. Burial will be in Mountain View. Rev. Bowen of the Episcopal church of Portland, will officiate at the services. Mr. Shewman was for many years a member and lay reader of the Episcopal church. The bearers will be Mayor Linn Jones, E. A. Chapman, Judge Grant B. Dimick, John W. Risley, O. W. Eastman and M. J. Brown.

—According to the Bartlesville (Okla.) Examiner, Sheriff Weber, son Dr. and Mrs. Howard Weber, of that place and former East Hickory residents, had a narrow escape from fatal injury and, as it was, sustained a broken arm. The young chap was riding a bicycle through an alley and came out on Third street just as a heavy dray wagon reached that corner. The collision was unavoidable, as neither the boy or the driver could stop. Young Weber went under the horses' feet and the arm was broken when one of them trampled him.

Your Boy's Clothes
We want a chance to dress him up becomingly at a cost that will tickle your sense of economy. Our clothes for boys are distinctively boys' clothes in fashioning and fabric. They are such clothes in fashioning and fabric. They are such clothes as any boy would be glad to grow up in. If you, mother, had supervised their cut and manufacture, exercising your critical faculty thoroughly, we do not think you could suggest any change that would better them—in style or durability.
Our Combination Suits
$5.00, $6.00 and $7.00, are for boys of 6 to 18 years old. Norfolk or double-breasted style, with two pairs of full lined trousers. A special value at $5.00.
Our Novelty Suits
$3.00, $4.00 and $5.00, are for the little fellows of 3 to 8 years. Russian and Sailor models, prettily trimmed.
Our New Wash Suits
60c to $3.00, show several styles of collars and straight or bloomer trousers. A big assortment of fabrics and colors.

Boys' Blouse Waists, 25c
A special buy—sizes 6 to 15 only—there are black satens, blue bell chambrics, plain whites and stripes in good quality of fast color madras. They look like our regular 50c waists—cloth is about as good, but the sizes do not run as large as the better waists, but you'll say they are good values when you see them.
